Zimbalist in Second Recital

DY SYLVESTER RAWLING Zimbalist, the accomplished young Russian violinist, who is become at once the vogue, gave a second recipi at Carnegie Hall yesterday afternoon before a large and fashionable audience This time his programme was worthy of his art as well as of his skill, which could not be said of that of his first recital. It included Handel's sonata in E Major, Bach's Chaconne for violin alone, Bruch's Scotch fantasie, a suite in the old style by himself, and compo-sitions by Schumann, Fritz Kreisier, Tor Aulin and Sarasate. Here was material to put the young man truly to the test, and It must be said that he stood it admirably. Not only is his tone big and luscious, but his taste and understand-of violinists. Ysaye. Mr. Zimbalist's own composition, in four parts, was too long, but it showed fertiffly in construction and had a melodic foundation. His playing of the Bach chaconne was admirable, and of the Bruch Scotch fantasie brilliant. The the Bruch Scotch fantasie brilliant. The lighter compositions on the programme were charmingly expressed.

Mr. Zimbalist is to be congratulated on his refusal to play more than two extra numbers at the end, despite the clamor of a large part of the audience. The writer lives in hope that some day artists will decline to give any after contributions for good measure.

THE MARGULIES TRIO

GIVES ITS FIRST CONCERT. The Margulles Trio-Adele Margulles, planist; Leopold Lichtenberg, violinist, and Leo Schultz, 'cellist-gave the first of its three concerts for the season at Carnegie Lyceum last night before a large audience that manifestly enjoyed itself. Each of the musicians was in good form, and the three played to gether admirably. The opening number was Haydn's trio No. 5, in E flat, of which the second movement was most enjoyed. Then followed Paderewski's sonata in A minor, op. 13, which Miss Margulles and Mr. Lichtenberg played delightfully. Bossi's trio sinfonico in D major, op. 123, which has been played here before but is not familiar, was the final offering. It is in four movements, each interesting, the finale especially attractive.

CONCERT BY CARL AND KATH-ERINE FIQUE.

Carl Fique, pianist and composer, and Katherine Nosch Fique, soprano, gave a well-attended recital at Memorial Hall. Schermerhorn street, Brocklyn, last evening. The programme consisted of eight numbers, representing Weber, Massanet, Chopin, Schubert, Mozart, Wagner and -int Saens. The audience was extremely appreciative.

PRINCE FOUND HUNTER FOR EVERY ELK HERE.

And Princess Ghika Didn't See Anything on Visit to Change Anti-Suffragette Views.

The Prince and his sister, Princess Nicholas Ghika, their niese, the arincess Olive Maurocordato, and Capt. C. E. Radelyffe of the British army were returning passengers to Europ on the Cunarder Mauretania, which sailed to-day. The Prince and Capt. Radelyffe came over two months ago, for a hunt-ing trip in Wyoming and Montana.

"We had a lot of fun," said the Prince,
"but there is one lesson your American sportsmen need to learn very quickly.
They must contrive laws and police so that the shooting of female elk by men who are not sportsmen may be stopped at once. Every elk I trailed had a man's footprints following it. And the killing of the females will surely wipe out the species."

The Princess, who is an anti-suffra-gette, said that, in spite of much persuasive argument by suffragettes in thi country, she was still of opinion, as she announced when she came over to join her brother, that "one baby is worth 10,000 votes to any woman. The Princess makes dish-washing easy

The use of a little Gold Dust in your dish-water will make your dishes whiter, sweeter and cleaner than they ever can be without it. Unlike soap, Gold Dust does more than clean the surface. It goes deep after germs and hidden food particles, and sterilizes everything it touches.

Gold Dust does all the hard part of the work without your assistance, because it begins to dissolve and clean the moment it touches the water.

When you have to wash dishes 1095 times a year, the Gold Dust method of saving half your time and half your labor means something.
